No Clues Yet In Murder Of Elba Woman

COUNTRY HOME IS SCENE OF BRUTAL MURDER....This lovely country home located six-miles north of Elba on Highway 87 was the scene of the murder of a 49-year-old Elba woman last Friday morning. Authorities are continuing their investigation; however, at press time this week no clues had been uncovered

The killing last Friday morning of Retha Mae Hines, as with all such brutal acts, leaves this community in shock. We all stop and think, "How many times have we been home alone as she was Friday"? It could happen to anyone, but this time it was Mrs. Hines. Her family has our sympathy.

The public figures who allowed themselves to be "jailed for bail" to help the Elba band last Saturday are to be commended. They were good sports to participate in this project. We also like the thoughts of those who paid extra money to have Mayor Fred Moore kept for several more hours after he raised his bail. County Commissioner Robert Stephens is lucky wife Frances couldn't get a deal working because she was raising money for the band to keep Robert until Monday! They apparently didn't want him.

The indictment of four men, three Alabama legislators and a former house member, on charges of bribery or attempted bribery concerning a new Birmingham dog track effort, brings out a major concern of the people of Alabama. The voters tend to automatically believe charges of fraud when gambling interests are involved. When an elected official is involved, it explains many of the reluctancies of the voter to approve pay raises, retirement plans, etc., or to believe the peers of these lawmakers who are actually trying to be honest. Personally we have no problem with spotting dog tracks around the state, but only if we could eliminate the sticky fingers of folks wanting more than the legal amounts they can earn by the sweat of

One day last week this country boy was blessed with the job of driving our oldest son to the airport. He was wearing a U. S. Army uniform and bound for a tour in Europe. It was an emotional event for him and for me. We had already left a mother standing in the kitchen with tears rolling down her cheeks. My emotions were surprising because I am supposed to be hardnosed and without such petty emotions of the heart. I have walked a mile in his shoes and know it will be a great experience but my voice was breaking as he prepared to board that plane for Frankfurt, Germany. Each of my children has left home before and from this same airport and everything was okay. Our daughter boarded that very Delta flight bound for Europe and school at Oxford (and returned) and we were thrilled she was getting to go. More than once one of them took this early morning flight to Washington, D. C. and we just asked them to call when they arrived. We don't understand but the preacher noted this wasn't unusual when the eldest son was going overseas on a military tour, even for old goats like

Charles Evers, the black mayor of Fayette, Mississippi, and a well-known civil rights leader, has joined the Republican Party. He noted upon announcing the change the necessity of black Americans to be involved in both national parties. We agree. The United States doesn't need a "party for the blacks" nor does it need a "party for the whites". We need parties for Americans, with each party representing the varying political thoughts free people possess and are allowed to openly support.

We watched the TV movie Rowe vs Wade Monday evening, partially to figure out what the uproar was against the presentation of the show. It was supposed to be a factual account of the landmark lawsuit that resulted in the overturning of laws preventing abortion in many states. Apparently many anti-abortion activists didn't want the show aired and began threatening potential advertisers. We found nothing that should have offended anyone. In fact we would much prefer America's teenagers and younger youth to see that movie than the one they will probably see before the week is out. There was no profanity, no explicit sexual scenes, etc. Apparently it was an effort to show exactly what happened without inserting editorial opinions for or against the decision.

Religion And Backbone

Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven" (Matthew 10:32-33). This scripture comes to us out of the heart of the charge which the Lord Jesus gave to the Twelve when he sent them out on their first great mission. And specifically, it comes from that part of the Lord's charge which points out the great perils which the disciples must encounter (Matthew 10:16-39). For the Lord did not shrink from warning them of the many persecutions and perils which would certainly come upon them. But the Lord paused to tell his disciples, on the other hand, that they need not fear any person nor devils and angels and confess the marked the sparrow's tall and who numbered the very hairs of their heads would be with them and that whoever boldly and bravely confessed him before a gainsaying and persecuting world would have hi own name confessed before God and the holy angels (Matthew 10:28-making a very definite appeal for backbone in his religion. And precisely that is one of the greatest needs of the present hour. We do not need a new bible, but the grace and grit to stand by the Old Book of God. What marvels we would accomplish if we would do Savior and Lord; but we need the courage to step out before men and any thing that could be done to them; that the same God who stand for him.

ANSWERS! TO YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS

What is God's plan for the organization of the church?

Jesus promised to build His church, saying that the "gates of Hades shall not prevail against it" (Matt. 16:18). The Father put all things under the feet of Christ, and "gave him to be the head over all things to the church, which is his body" (Eph. 1:22-23). Christ is the head, the only head of the church, which is his body. There is no authority for any heirarchy, or organization above the level of the local church. Associations, conventions, dioceses, sy nods, or other organizations above the local church are not authorized by the

The apostles were specifically chosen by Christ to direct the church in the beginning, and were sent forth with the promise that the Spirit would guid them into all truth (John 16:13). Their miraculous gifts showed that they were commissioned of God. Due to the special nature of their work, the apostles had no successors. In New Testament times, each local congrega tion had elders, also called bishops or pastors, who served to oversee the le cal congregation. Each congregation was self-governing, under the leadership of the elders. The number of elders in each local congregation was always plural, never one man alone. Paul "sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church" (Acts 20:17). He addressed Philippians to "all the saints i Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops (or elders) and deacons' (Phil. 1:1). Each congregation also had a plurality of deacons. The deacons, first mentioned in Acts 6:1-6, performed special duties for the church, under the leadership and authority of the elders.

Paul's letters to Timothy and Titus give very specific qualifications for the elders and deacons. I Timothy chapter 3 gives the qualifications of bishops, or elders, and also the qualifications of deacons. The qualifications for elders include both negative characteristics, such as "not given to wine," and positive characteristics, such as "the husband of one wife." These qualifica tions are not optional. Paul introduced the qualifications saving, "a bishor then must be." (vs. 2) and "likewise must the deacons" (vs. 8). Separate and slightly different qualifications are given for the deacons, because the deacons and the elders were two different groups of men. The primary mission of the evangelists in the early church was to "preach the word" (2 Tim. 4:2). An evangelist could serve as an elder, deacon, or teacher, but this was not his primary mission. Each congregation of the Lord's church today should be organized just like the congregations of the first century. There is no reason to deviate from God's pattern.

LAND JUDGING TEAM ADAVNCES TO STATE By Stuart Nelson and Jeff Hussey
Zion Chapel's Future Farmers of America (FFA) Land Judging team won second place at the district competition. The team had to judge dirt from four different holes. In each hole they looked for surface texture, permenbil ty, depth of soil, slope, and crosion. After they finished they had to tell if ity, depth of soil, slope, and erosion. After they tinished they had to tell if the land was suitable for a home site, row cropping, pasture land or forest land. Kenneth Marler, Chris Moultry, Pam Langley, and Kendall Grissett scored highest and only lost by one point to Hartford. The team will compete at state competition on June 5. Kendall Grissett scored the highest on his team. The livestock judging team also won third place at district competition. The main things the team must consider in judging livestock include length and thickness of the body, leg soundness, and growth according to the age of the animal ing to the age of the animal.

National Teachers Day Celebrated Recently

Several of Zion Chapel's organizations celebrated National Teachers crs. Day by showing their appreciation for the teachers with gifts of food and flowers.

I've wanted to live in the country ever since I was a little boy visiting my grandparents in Lowndes County and still dream about being able to take long walks in the woods, letting my little girls have a collie to run and play with and being able to just sit back in the late afternoon and hear nothing but the wind blowing through the trees. Living in town ain't all bad, I guess I just love to dream!

ELBA PLAYERS SELECTED FOR ALL-STAR GAME

The Lions' Clubs will sponsor their annual East-West All-Star baseball games around the state this weekend and included on the roster for the game to be played in Enterprise will be Elba's Leon Coleman and Stevie

Coleman and Sauls were both three-year starters for the Tigers and led the team to three straight state tournament appearances. The duo came up hrough the system in Elba playing Dixic Youth, Babe Ruth, Senior Babe Ruth and high school ball, and are two of the best players to come through the program in many years!

The event in Enterprise will pit players from towns in east Alabama against teams from the west part of the area, and should be a real showcase for local high school talent. Major league, college and junior college scouts will be on hand for the game, making the event doubly important to all players, and Elba's duo will get a shot to show what they can do against the best in local baseball talent. I think they'll do just fine! By the way, did you know that Dr. Billy Farris was the originator of the East-West games? Dr. Farris came up with the idea while living in north Alabama and under his guidance built the event into a statewide ser-players from across Alabama.

The Babe Ruth Baseball League season is now three weeks old and it looks like the Dodgers are ready to regain their spot atop the league. The Dodgers dominated the league years ago and won two or three straight titles, but fell upon hard times recently and for the past two years have finished in the league's cellar. This year; however, the Dodgers have begun the climb out of the cellar and after three weeks are sitting in first place. The Dodgers have only one fifteen-year-old player on their roster, making them the youngest team in the league, and if the players keep on improving like they have this season, the dynasty may soon be back!

MEN'S SOFTBALL ACTION BEST IN YEARS

The Men's Softball League is enjoying one of its best seasons in years and while it looks like the real battle may be for second place, it is still shaping up as one of the most competitive seasons I can remember. Mike's Gym-Hickman Movers has romped past every challenger all season and is averaging over 40 runs a game, but right behind the leaders are teams like Sportsmans Paradise, Flack-Haney Timber and Red Brahma, all of which have talented squads and should be near the top throughout the summer. The remainder of the league is also balanced, making me wonder if maybe at the end of the year we should have a split tournament and let the top five teams fight for one crown and the other six go for another.

IN CLOSING

Just food for thought!

The first annual Mike's Gym Invitational Softball Tournament was held Saturday in Elba, and although only seven teams took part, it had to be one of the strongest tournaments ever held in the city. Teams came from Birmingham, Mobile, Montgomery, Ft. Walton Beach, Dothan, Pensacola and Elba to battle for the top prize, and when the dust had settled and the balls finally quit going over the fence, BelAir Cleaners, of Mobile had the top trophy, with Mike's-Hickman placing second. It was a good tourney to watch and I hope the teams return in June for the 13th annual classic.

Feeding Market Hogs When raising market hogs from 220 or over, feed costs will be the piggest production cost you face. Of course, you have to consider other costs such as, animal cost, whether you produce the animal tion or by feeder pigs. Housing is another cost you may incur. Of course, health care would be your nal cost, along with sanitation. We are in a tough situation from a feed standpoint as it relates to market hog production at this particular time in 1988. U. S. number 1 and 2 market hogs weighing 220 to 250 pounds as of the 5th of October, were selling for around 38 to 38.50 per 100 weight. This is down 35% from last year. With corn prices on the rise, this doesn't add up to he best situation if you have to buy a lot of feed. Therefore, there some things you can do to possible save yourself some money in eeding out your market hogs.

One way is to not feed out hogs in any group large enough that you have to buy a great deal of feed. In other words, feed the amount of hogs that you can feed with the per pig by .2 of a pound, but keep corn you have on the farm. The

Once the hog reaches 10 up till they are 164 pounds feed a 14% ration and feed 6 pounds per pig per day. At 165 pounds to 219 pounds, drop the protein con tent down to 13% and feed 7 1/2 pounds per pig per day till finished The only change you might make at 220 pounds is if you want to top the pigs of around 250, increase the total feed consumption ample of a 16% ration would be to feed 74 pounds of grain and 26 pounds of a 36% protein supplement. This would give a 16% pro tein ration in a 100 pound batch. Approximate cost for this 100 ounds of feed would be $10.08 An example of a 14% ration would be 81 pounds of grain and 19 pounds of a 36% protein supple ment. Where do savings come in: If you fed a 200 pound market hop that needed 7 1/2 pounds of feed per day, he would need to finish and you fed this 7 1/2 pounds a 16% protein ration level which would be too high, but what many people do, they mix 1 batch for the whole time that they are feeding a hog, it would cost you 76 cents per day to

Memorial Day Accidents May Kill 15 In State

The Alabama Dept. of Public Safety estimates that 15 people will be killed in traffic accidents during the Memorial Day holiday weekend. according to Col. Thomas H. Wells, Public Safety director. The 78-hour holiday period begins at 6 p.m. Friday, May 26, and ends at midnight Monday, May 29. Wells advises motorists to drive defensively and to obey all traffic laws, and reminds them of the extreme dangers of drunken driving. "Alabama's DUI law provides the means to deal firmly with those who commit the crime of driving under the influence," said Wells. "I mandates loss of the driving privilege for 90 days and attendance of DUI school, and also allows a possible fine of $250 to $1,000 and possible imprisonment upon first "Second and subsequent convic-
